A TREE IS PLANTED IN DORRISVILLE-As part of a school grounds beautification project all classes of the Dorrisville school participated in a tree-planting program Wednesday afternoon. A part of the second grade, taught by Mrs. Edith Rhodes, watches as one of the trees is planted. Each pupil was given the opportunity of shovelling dirt around the new trees. Brose Phillips, principal of Dorrisville school, stated 24 trees were to be planted on the playground, at the intersection of Barnett and Feazel streets, including three each sweet gum, silver maple, pin oak, tulip poplar and 12 Lombardy poplar. Seven evergreens were planted around the gymnasium. Each of the first six grades planted a tree, the seventh and eighth grades planted two each and the others were planted by Orval Kuppart, school custodian. (Register Staff Photo)

Presidential Timber

EDITORIAL BY BRUCE BIOSSAT As the Democrats look ahead to 1960, there is no dearth of names to throw into the presidential ring. But neither is there any feeling among party leaders that the magic wand points clearly in one direction.

At this moment the leaders seem preoccupied with the one or more handicaps which they believe attach to each of the presidential prospects.

Yet they and their Republican counterparts do not appear to be grappling with one aspect of the presidential quest which mounts in significance as time goes on.

Nowadays the great weight is upon foreign and defense matters. No governor, unless he has had a he takes command at the statehouse, is trained in this decisive area of policy and administration.

An experienced U. S. senator, to be sure, may know a good deal about policy making in foreign and defense fields, but ordinarily he will lack executive training. The presidency of the United States is an incredibly difficult assignment for an admnisitrative

Adlai's Dilemma

ADLAI STEVENSON'S decision to consult with the Eisenhower administration but not to become an actual staff participant in the shaping of the U.S. program for the December NATO meeting reflects the dilemma of the politician called upon to aid a revival regime.

Stevenson as a patriotic citizen wants to help his country, and he does not wish to be labeled as uncooperative at this time in its history

On the other hand, he knows well the drawbacks that go with accepting full identification with an opposition administration.

It can limit his and his party's freedom of criticism of the opposition, since thereafter the Democrats would have to share responsibility for what is done in the affected fields of endeavor.

As a major offshoot of this, it can reduce the voter's chance of fixing a clear line of responsibility for action and policy. He needs this to make an intelligent choice between the parties.

Only in the urgency of a shooting war do politicians see reason to override these objections altogether.

Entertain Families With Potluck Dinner

The Amoma class of the Galatia Baptist church entertained families of the members Saturday with its annual Thanksgiving potluck dinner with Mrs. Sybil James the hostess.

The evening was opened with prayer by Bill Allen. Bro. James Franks gave a short devotion. enumerating the many blessings we receive that are too often tak en for granted, also, the fact that everyone is too busy now days to take time out to give 'thanks" at Thanksgiving time.

A game was played and the prize was won by Madeline Large.

I'm convinced Nationwide Direct Distance Dialing is simple to use

Q. What happens if I should reach a wrong number or make a mistake while dialing?

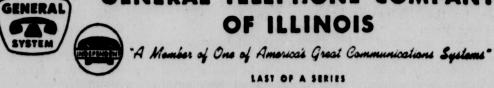

A. If you reach a wrong number, ask the person who answers what city and telephone number you have reached. Then dial "OPERATOR" (zero) immediately and tell the operator what happened so she can notify the business office and your account will be properly credited. If you make a mistake while dialing, hang up immediately; then lift the receiver, wait for dial tone, and dial the complete number again.

YOU WILL NOT BE CHARGED ...

 if you hang up before you dial the complete number office, together with 557 other dis ployed or self-employed in offices trict offices of the Social Security factories, mercantile enterprises Administration, is cooperating with or covered professions in urban farm and business industries in areas. "Old-age, survivors, and the nationwide observance of disability insurance is not a farm Farm-City Week, E. Bishop Hill, subsidy," he declared. district manager, announced today. Since the objective of National Farm-City Week, Nov. 22-28, is to machine age has created a need observance of National Farm-City stress the interrelation of rural and urban peoples, Mr. Hill said that the Social Security Administration will emphasize the "oneness" of its old-age, survivors, and disability program. By participating in the observance of National Farm-City Week, Mr. Hill recognizes an opportunity for his office to correct some of the misunder standing on the part of both the farmer and the city dweller about the purpose of social security in-

"Some people do not fully understand that the social security program is the same for the farmer and for the city person," Mr. Hill said. "Many farmers still think that old-age, survivors, and disability insurance for them and their families is a distinct and separate program from the social security program for city folks. Some believe erroneously, that when they reach retirement age they just have to apply at their social security district office for "farmers' benefits and then go right on with their farming activities," he de-

As a possible reason for this misunderstanding, Mr. Hill pointed out that the social securiay law does contain a few special provisions for farmers in recognition of the fact that farming differs in many ways from the operation of other business enterprises. These provisions relate to the way selfemployed farmers are permitted to figure their net earnings for social security purposes if their gross farm income is not more than $1.800 and their net is less than $1,200; also, the manner in which farm rental income received from a tenant or share-farmer can count for social security credit if the farm landlord "materially participates" in the operation on the land he rents out.

No "Special" Benefits These special provisions for farm operators, however, have nothing to do with the type of social secur ity benefits payable or work eligibility for benefits. Emphasizing that there are no special "farmers' benefits," Mr. Hill said that farmers and their families qualify for these Federal insurance payments based on a farmer's work under social security just like mil-

Junior G. A.'s, Intermediates Meet at Home of Leader

The Junior G. A.'s and Interme diates of the First Baptist church met after school Tuesday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Betty Russell, to study the book, 'The Breadmaker's Son." After the book study, potluck was enjoyed. then all watched television until 8 o'clock when Mrs. Russell accom panied each girl home.

Those attending were Darlene Goodson, Rosemary Miller, Sharon Miller, Kay Harbinson, Ann Blanchard, Gail Blanchard, Marilyn Wiseman and Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Russell and children, Kathy. Dennis and Belinda.

Plans were made to have a "hobo soup party" in the near future

Those who attended the book study on Africa last Friday at the First Baptist church in Eldorado were Mrs Emma Hall, Essie Musgraves, Opal Goodson and Mrs. Stella Smith. Mrs. Hiller was the teacher and the study was very interesting.

Mrs. Ida Pollard of Carmi is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones. Mrs. Pollard is her sister.

Robin Glascock has returned to his home after being a patient for several days in a Benton hospital. Mrs. Mildred Wallace and Mrs Britta Randolph of Harrisburg were callers Monday at the home of Opal Goodson.

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D D.

(Written for NEA Service) Tea towels serve a number of purposes beyond their original purpose. Normally they are used to dry the excess water from the dish which has been washed and rinsed. Many people do not thoroughly wash the dishes. It becomes necessary for the one who wields the towel to polish off the bit of excess debris. The same insignificant dish towels are sometimes dressed up to ornament the kitchen. They are frequently used to remove fingerprints, smudges or dust from dishes which have remained unused for long periods of time. A lot of people use their religion much as they use a tea towel. They use a few verses of Scripture their lives. They dust off their neglected prayer habits when they feel a need to pray unexpectedly. 116-tt They use God for the unusual sit-

A TREE IS PLANTED IN DORRISVILLE—As part of a school grounds beautification project all classes of the Dorrisville school participated in a tree-planting program Wednesday afternoon. A part of the second grade, taught by Mrs. Edith Rhodes, watches as one of the trees is planted. Each pupil was given the opportunity of shovelling dirt around the new trees. Brose Phillips, principal of Dorrisville school, stated 24 trees were to be planted on the playground, at the intersection of Barnett and Feazel streets, including three each sweet gum, silver maple, pin oak, tulip poplar and 12 Lombardy poplar. Seven evergreens were planted around the gymnasium. Each of the first six grades planted a tree, the seventh and eighth grades planted two each and the others were planted by Orval Kuppart. school custodian. (Register Staff Photo)

He said no final decision has been made, however, and "we will continue to make every effort" to remain within the present spending limit.

Anderson, in his first appearance before a congressional committee since he became treasury secretary, testified at hearings on financing problems being conducted by the House Small Business Committee.

In deciding whether the limit should be raised, Anderson said, many things "will have to be weighed."

Social Security Office Cooperating In Observance of Farm-City Week

The Harrisburg social security | lions of city workers who are em office, together with 557 other dis ployed or self-employed in offices trict offices of the Social Security factories, mercantile enterprises Administration, is cooperating with or covered professions in urban farm and business industries in areas. "Old-age, survivors, and the nationwide observance of disability insurance is not a farm disability insurance to farm peo Farm-City Week, E. Bishop Hill, subsidy," he declared.

district manager, announced today. and urban peoples, Mr. Hill said that the Social Security Administration will emphasize the "oneness" of its old-age, survivors, and disability program. By participating in the observance of National Farm-City Week, Mr. Hill recog nizes an opportunity for his office to correct some of the misunderstanding on the part of both the farmer and the city dweller about the purpose of social security insurance.

Same Program For Both

"Some people do not fully under stand that the social security program is the same for the farmer and for the city person," Mr. Hill said. "Many farmers still think that old-age, survivors, and disability insurance for them and their families is a distinct and separate program from the social security program for city folks. Some believe erroneously, that when they reach retirement age they just have to apply at their social security district office for "farmers' benefits and then go right on with their farming activities," he declared.

As a possible reason for this misunderstanding, Mr. Hill pointed out that the social securiay law does contain a few special provisions for farmers in recognition of the fact that farming differs in many ways from the operation of other business enterprises. These provisions relate to the way selfemployed farmers are permitted to figure their net earnings for social security purposes if their gross farm income is not more than $1.800 and their net is less than $1.200; also, the manner in which farm rental income received from a tenant or share-farmer can count for social security credit if the farm landlord "materially participates" in the operation on the land he rents out.

No "Special" Benefits These special provisions for farm operators, however, have nothing to do with the type of social security benefits payable or work eligibility for benefits. Emphasizing that there are no special "farmers' benefits." Mr. Hill said that farmers and their families qualify for these Federal insurance payments based on a farmer's work under social security just like mil-

3-Act Play Nov. 26 The Junior class of the Equality high school will present a threeact comedy, "A Lucky Penny," on Nov. 26, at 7:30 p. m. in the high school gymnasium. The cast includes the following:

Penny, Phyllis Pantier; Lydia Pringle, Louise Garrett; Caleb Pringle, Don Thompson; Joanna, Freda Sisk; Kerry, Jerry Williams; Greg, Jackie Mann; Gram, Elizabeth Gott; Miss Haskins, Sue Wenzel; Mr. Daly, Bobby Dale; O'-Shane, Gary Tite; Flash, Ronald Thompson; Georgina, Louise Walters; Vera, Carolyn Barnett; Susette, Ginny Freeman; Hulda, Adriana McMurtry.

Penny has taken up modern art -but hard! Grandma is all for spanking her, but Penny's mother has been boning up on child psychology and is afraid she might "warp Penny's personality." Joanna backs Penny up! They even refuse to go to the school dance with Greg and Kerry. ART comes first! It seems to Kerry that action is needed, and he and Greg plot with the family: They'll all go for ART. Penny's dad begins to tootle sour notes on a sax; the cook devotes her energies to swinging dumb-bells to achieve "the body beautiful"; Penny's mom capers about "expressing her soul in the dance"; Greg bellows operatic arias, and Kerry announces he's an artist and starts looking for models. Three very cute girls appear to get the job, and Penny can see that they find Kerry fascinating.

Musial's latest goal, which he lopes to reach sometime next May, would make him the eighth player in history and the first since Paul Waner in 1942 to reach such a total.

Musial, who suffered a bone chip and muscle tear in his left shoulder when he swung too violently on Aug. 20, returned to the lineup after the injury with renewed vigor. He showed little loss of form in batting .500 the last 10

But he explained that much of his efficiency then was due to a necessary cutdown on his big swing, which led to his stroking the ball to left field more often.

Trainer Bob Bauman has an exercising and conditioning program ready for him and Musial does not expect too much trouble from the injury. Hawkeyes appeared to have indi-
